Hospice makes man with cancer and special needs “very happy”

Joseph Bell’s aunt, Louise Gant, puts it very simply: “Visits from the hospice people make Joseph very happy. They have helped him so much.”

Joseph, 51, has lived with developmental disabilities all of his life. A new battle — cancer — makes him feel weak and tired. The hospice team is helping him fight his symptoms, like Sheriff Matt Dillon fights the bad guys on Gunsmoke, Joseph’s favorite TV show.

Coastal Hospice serves Joseph at the Special Home in Cambridge that he shares with three other residents. His team of hospice nurses, aides and social workers comes in several times a week. They help his home caregivers, regulate his medications, and make sure he’s stable and not in pain. They also watch his weight and overall condition.

When asked how he’s feeling, Joseph makes the “OK” sign. He’s relaxing in a comfortable recliner, covered with a brown plaid blanket handmade for him by the ladies of the First Baptist Church in Delmar and given to him by Coastal Hospice. Joseph is watching an old black-and-white rerun of “Dennis the Menace” on the TV screen in the living room of the warm and cozy home.

Joseph and his caregivers at the home are hoping he improves enough under hospice care so he can get back to doing the two things he loves best: going to church at the Royal Family Outreach Ministry and shopping at Walmart.

“He loves, just loves, going to Walmart,” says Sarah Jackson, a caregiver in Joseph’s group home. “We put him in the electric cart, and he cruises the store, just looking around. He always heads straight for where the DVDs and electronics are. Movies are his favorite, especially Dukes of Hazzard.”

When Joseph is having his picture taken, he doesn’t say, “Cheese.” Instead, he shouts “Walmart” and flashes a big grin.

A MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT
ALANE CAPEN

Proud to serve our community for 35 years

It’s been 35 years since a small group of dedicated people came together to create Coastal Hospice. In the years since, we have grown, not only in size, but in the number of ways we serve our community.

You see it in our name: Coastal Hospice & Palliative Care, updated when the Palliative Care program was launched in 2006. Each change, each addition to our programs, has been met with an enthusiastic “Yes!” in our region.

A request for lap blankets sparked an overwhelming response, warming the hearts of our patients and staff. A partnership with Salisbury University created Camp Safe Harbor, which not only helped children respond to loss, but also built the field of professionals prepared to deliver grief support to them. And our non-medical service, Compass: Connecting You to Support at Home, is growing rapidly.

Our Palliative Care Clinic at Peninsula Regional Medical Center is delivering support to almost seven times as many patients as it did just four years ago. That means not only are more individuals getting help with life-limiting conditions, but more physicians are recognizing the value of palliative care. Our ongoing community education partnership with MAC, Inc., the 50+ Network and PRMC brought a leading advocate for palliative care, Dr. Ira Byock, here to speak to clinicians in our own community.

Each of these initiatives was made possible through the support of our generous community,

Each change, each addition to our programs, has been met with an enthusiastic “Yes!” in our region.

ASK
MEDICAL DIRECTOR

Ask Dr. Waris is a regular feature of Coastal Hospice News. Send your questions to eban@coastalhospice.org or write to Coastal Hospice, Ask Dr. Waris, PO Box 1733, Salisbury, MD 21802-1733. All questions become the property of Coastal Hospice and may be used in future publications.

Q: What is the difference between hospice care and palliative care?

A: We say it in our name — Coastal Hospice AND Palliative Care — because each service is unique in what it offers and who receives it. Both programs can make a significant difference in the lives of patients and their families.

Hospice care is meant for people who no longer are seeking curative treatments and who are in their final months of life. Rather than seeking a cure, hospice care aims to make the patient's remaining time as comfortable and as meaningful as possible. This may mean pain relief and nursing care, but also includes emotional support and help with everyday tasks.

Hospice care also takes into account the needs of family, friends, and caregivers, recognizing that loved ones are also on a difficult journey. Hospice is generally provided in the patient's own home.

Palliative care (pronounced pal'-lee-uh-tive) may be given at any time during a patient's illness. Anyone with a serious illness, regardless of life expectancy, can receive palliative care at the same time they are receiving curative care. The goal is to improve quality of life for both the patient and family.

Coastal Hospice's palliative team offers expert pain management and relief from distressing symptoms that can be associated with chemotherapy, radiation or other curative treatments. Research shows palliative care can ease symptoms such as pain, fatigue, shortness of breath, nausea and depression, and, in some cases, may even prolong a person's life.

Palliative care is a holistic, team approach that becomes an extra layer of support. Our team talks with patients about their illness and treatment choices, with a focus on what matters to them and their family, and then partners with the patient's own doctors and facility caregivers to coordinate care.

Coastal Hospice offers palliative care at Peninsula Regional Medical Center for inpatients and at the Cancer Center clinic, and also through other programs on the Lower Shore. Please call for information.

Both hospice care and palliative care are covered by most insurance plans including Medicare and Medicaid. However, Coastal Hospice & Palliative Care never denies care to anyone based on their inability to pay.

Thank you for being our Angels!

Our annual fundraising drive raised nearly $91,000 to help those in our care

We would like to thank all of the angels who contributed so generously to Coastal Hospice's annual "Be an Angel" fundraiser.

Our wonderful supporters — 1,157 of you — contributed more than $91,000 to help fund the charity care we provide.

Last year, Coastal Hospice cared for 1,096 patients and families in the four counties on the Lower Eastern Shore and provided more than $650,000 in charity care to patients who lacked the resources to pay for the care they desperately needed.

The average gift this year was nearly $77, which will have a significant impact on the care Coastal Hospice provides to patients and their families.

For example, $75 can pay for one month of medical equipment for a patient at home. We sincerely thank everyone who generously donated to our "Be an Angel" drive.

Capen: 35 years of caring whether in the form of an individual quilter or a grant-making foundation.

All of this progress emboldened Coastal Hospice leadership to apply to pilot a new Medicare test model. We launched Coastal Care Choices in January and are one of only three hospice providers in Maryland and just 140 selected nationwide to participate.

More importantly, Coastal Care Choices allows us to explore a new approach to palliative care. Patients who fit Medicare's guidelines for enrollment experience the benefits of hospice-like care even as they continue aggressive treatment for their condition.

This has also been a remarkable year for community support of Coastal Hospice programs. Our campaign to create Coastal Hospice at the Ocean, a hospice residence and outreach center, received some transformative gifts during this fiscal year, enough so that we are within $1.25 million of reaching our campaign goal of $5 million.

Throughout our history and remarkable program growth, it is you, our donors, who reach back to us through your generosity. Without that trust and support, we would not be able to provide programs and services to those patients and families who need our care and support.

Volunteer wins Worcester County Humanitarian Award

We are very proud of our patient care volunteer, Nancy Engelke of Ocean Pines, who in January received the Worcester County Humanitarian Award for her 14 years of service to Coastal Hospice. Nancy has spent more than 1,120 hours and driven nearly 3,900 miles to care for our patients who need her.

The award was sponsored by Habitat for Humanity of Worcester County, the Community Foundation of the Eastern Shore and The Dispatch newspaper. Congratulations, Nancy!

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

Volunteers visit and honor veterans as they come into hospice care

WE HONOR VETERANS

Coastal Hospice's We Honor Veterans program has taken the next step toward supporting the veterans in our care, thanks to our dedicated volunteers. Starting in January, every veteran who comes into our care is honored with a special visit from a patient care volunteer. During the visit, the veteran receives a personalized certificate with his or her name and branch of service and a patriotic-themed lap blanket to warm them with honor. The volunteers report the veterans love sharing their service stories.

Volunteer Dave Duitscher, a veteran himself, has been regularly visiting the veterans in our care and taking them flag blankets and certificates.

Jimmy Charles concert raises $2,600 to help fund charity care

Country music artist and American Idol contestant Jimmy Charles returned for a second year to perform his annual benefit concert for Coastal Hospice. The free "I'll Be Home for Christmas" concert was held on Dec. 17 at the Ocean Pines Yacht Club.

Charles chose Coastal Hospice for the benefit, because we cared for his grandmother. The musician grew up in Ocean City — he was born James Charles Krabbe — and graduated from Stephen Decatur High School and Towson University.

"It takes some really special people to do what Coastal Hospice does. They were a blessing to us, and now it is time that I give back to them," Charles says.

The 2015 Charter Society

The Charter Society was established to recognize donors who gave a cumulative total of $1,000 or more during a calendar year. Charter Society members are listed and recognized during the following calendar year at Coastal Hospice on Old Ocean City Road in Salisbury, Coastal Hospice at the Lake in Salisbury, and Coastal Hospice at the Ocean in Berlin. Gifts totaling $10,000 or more during a calendar year are recognized as Beacon Benefactors within The Charter Society (marked below with an *), and their names are displayed at Coastal Hospice at the Lake.
